Infectious and immune-mediated diseases

15 - 20 August 2010

Hobart, Tasmania

Infectious and immune-mediated diseases are two of the fastest developing fields in veterinary medicine.

Are you using PCR, IFA and ELISAs?

Do you know the latest on diseases like Bartonella or Helicobacter?

What are the real issues regarding vaccination?

How many weird and wonderful diseases are you diagnosing in your practice?

The ASAVA is proud to bring you two of the most renowned international experts in these fields, Tim Gruffydd-Jones and Michael Day.
